

FREE THINGS TO DO!

Monday Nov. 6	Community // 13TH ANNUAL DIA DE LOS MUERTOS EXHIBIT Come this exhibit that's open during the month of Dia de Los Muertos, a time for remembering those who have passed, leaving bridges—not walls—in their wake. You'll find a remembrance altar of men and women who have died fighting for freedom and justice.	All day El Centro de la Raza 2524 16th Ave S
Tuesday Nov. 7	Art // NOTIONS OF HOME With contributions from dozens of diverse photographers, the Notions of Home exhibit examines varying interpretations of what home means: an especially significant topic in this dire climate for affordable housing.	12:00 pm - 9:00 pm 900 12th Ave
Wednesday Nov. 8	Talks // "CHIEF SEATTLE AND THE TOWN THAT TOOK HIS NAME" Join a discussion of the life and times of Chief Seattle, the famous leader of the Suquamish Tribe. Moderated by David Brewster, the panelists include Duwamish Tribal Chairwoman Cecile Hansen, linguist Nile Thompson, and historian David Buerge.	7:00 pm - 8:15 pm Central Library 1000 4 th Ave
Thursday Nov. 9	Art // BASEBALL CULTURE IN CUBA In this new gallery, photojournalist Ira Block captures Cuban life through the lens of baseball, even sharing with us video interviews of Mariners players of Cuban descent for an up-close-and-personal exploration of this fascinating cultural area.	10:00 am - 8:00pm Central Library 1000 4 th Ave
Friday Nov. 10	Music // HASKELL SMALL One man. One piano. Infinite impact. Hailing from Washington, D.C., pianist and composer Haskell Small presents "Journeys in Silence," a concert series that strikes the perfect balance between sound and silence.	7:30 pm St. Paul's Episcopal Church 15 Roy St
Saturday Nov. 11	Readings // OLD INDIAN TALES Sit down for some good old-fashioned storytelling of Native American tales, told by professors at University of Washington. They even have a fog machine ready, for the ultimate ambience.	4:00 pm - 7:00 pm UW Intellectual House 4249 Whitman Ct
Sunday Nov. 12	Art // ONE GRAY HAIR Expect the unexpected in this first solo museum exhibit by Alison Marks, who turns Native art upside-down, incorporating mixed media sourced from all over the Internet.	11:00 am -5:00 pm Frye Art Museum 704 Terry Ave
