

FREE THINGS TO DO!

Monday Oct. 30	SPECIAL EVENTS // Ask the Oracle The fates foretell that on the evening before Halloween, you will descend upon the historical Hotel Sorrento for a ghoulishly fun night of divination. Have questions about your near or distant fate? Write 'em down and your fortune shall be told by writers Richard Chiem, Meredith Clark, and Marie-Caroline Moir, in the form of excerpts from their respective books.	7:30 pm - 9:00 pm Hotel Sorrento 900 Madison St
Tuesday Oct. 31	TALKS // The History and Future of Design Tap into the mind of a designer at this talk that marks a part of the beloved Seattle Design Festival. You'll gain insights on the world through a design lens, where different areas of life, such as art and technology, intersect.	5:00 pm - 6:30 pm SPL, Capitol Hill Branch 425 Harvard Ave E
Wednesday Nov. 1	BOOKS // Silent Reading Party It's the first Wednesday of the month, and you know what that means: time to take your favorite book on a date to the Fireside Room at Hotel Sorrento, the comfiest corner in the city on a chilly fall evening, complete with live music. Make sure to get there early to snag a spot!	6:00 pm - 8:00 pm Hotel Sorrento 900 Madison St
Thursday Nov. 2	ART // First Thursday Art Walk Check out diverse collections of the latest art commissioned by Amplifier, a spunky activist art collective whose mission is to shake the political and cultural climate in Seattle and beyond.	6:00 pm - 9:00 pm Impact Hub Seattle 220 Second Ave S
Friday Nov. 3	ART // WhiteWash: Reflection Exciting arts space Common Area Maintenance, or CAM, presents this pop-up exhibit that's fashioned as an interactive storefront, carefully curated with pieces that explore the history of race in America and the notions of whiteness. This exhibit runs for one week starting on this very day, November 3rd.	All day Common Area Maintenance 2125 Second Ave
Saturday Nov. 4	FESTIVALS // Seattle Hmong New Year 2017 Learn more about the culture of the Hmong population of the Seattle area through this annual celebration of their new year. Fun performances and other cultural activities await. Musical groups TheLoSwing and The Moua band are scheduled to rock out the night concert!	11:00 am - 6:00 pm Armory at Seattle Center 500 Harrison St
Sunday Nov. 6	TALKS // Speakeasy: Dancing about Architecture The Velocity Dance Center's Speakeasy series sparks interdisciplinary dialogue centered on the art of dance. Three guest choreographers with backgrounds in architecture will offer unique insight on the intersection between two art forms that we normally don't think to connect. Artsy hearts won't want to miss out on this fascinating discussion.	5:00 pm - 6:30 pm Velocity Dance Center 1621 12th Ave
